South Side

"Quality entertainment" assemblies have been few and far in between for Spartans, and the outcome of last Wednesday's assembly answers why.

Pat Paulsen, comedian on the "Smothers Brothers Show," gave what was probably South's best assembly—or could have been. Jeers from the stands, catcalls, penny and paper throwing, and other rude behavior marred the performance. At first he seemed to take it in stride and jeered back, but the continual baiting from the crowd got quite out of hand. The purpose of the assembly was to commemorate South's 10th anniversary, and Mr. Paulsen remarked, "Some of you hamburgers won't make it to 11." And he was justified in saying it.

was a split assembly) he had to retreat in the ticket room in the gym foyer, in order to avoid being mobbed by the students. Second assembly proved to be even worse than the first. Many students cut class to attend both performances. They jumped many of his punchlines, and protested when he changed his skit in the smallest way. Nearing the end, there was so much commotion, Mr. Paulsen had to leave the floor without giving his "farewell piece."

The onrush of the students toward the foyer was tremendous. Service Club members had to bar the doors in order to give Paulsen enough time to leave the premises. Stopping to talk to no one, that is just what he did.

Because of this rudeness and lack of appreciation, there are now rumors that Spartans will be allowed no assemblies for the duration of the school year.

FOR COUNCIL SEAT

Ex-City Aide
Files Papers

Former assistant city manager O. P. (Bud) Johnson, 52, Tuesday filed nomination blanks for a seat on the Torrance City Council.

Johnson, now employed as a real estate salesman, finished fourth in the council race two years ago in which three incumbents were returned to office.

"My qualifications to serve include a knowledge of city administration in depth, all phases of departmental operations, and a day by day contact with the City Council and commissions," Johnson said as he filed his nomination papers.

"THIS knowledge was gained during the years in which I was assistant city manager in Torrance. I feel I am the best qualified candidate because of my extensive experience in municipal government—both professional and as a civic-minded citizen," he added.

Johnson also said his election would "help restore independent voting" on the council.

He and his wife, Edith, live at 23810 Stanhurst Ave. in southeast Torrance. They are parents of one son, William, 24.

JOHNSON attended El Camino College and the University of Southern California and was employed for more than 20 years by the Norair Division of Northrop, Inc., as

He is a member of the International City Managers Association, past master of the Palms Masonic Lodge, and a past president of the Flying Wing Acacia Club, a Masonic fraternity.

Johnson also is a director of the West Torrance Lions Club and a co-chairman of the club's annual benefit football game. He is a member of the Torrance Area Chamber of Commerce and serves on the local government affairs sub-committee. Johnson also serves on the Torrance Lomita Board of Realtors membership committee.

Selected For Awards

Three Torrance high school students have been selected as Outstanding Teenagers of America for 1967.

Named by the Outstanding Americans Foundation to compete for state and national awards in April were: Dan Hansen and Kent Blair, seniors at North High School, and Myra Roach, a senior at Torrance High School.

The Outstanding Americans Foundation, a non-profit foundation dedicated to honoring, inspiring and encouraging young people to take full advantage of the opportunities in America, sponsors this awards program annually.

The recipients of this honor were selected on the basis of ability and achievement. They will compete with other winners in California for the Governor's Trophy awarded annually to the most outstanding teenager in each state. They also will be eligible for one of the top ten national awards and college scholarships made available by the Outstanding Americans Foundation.
